the onslaught

Within these gallant halls resounds the cry of an onslaught—that exciting drama of the quest for knowledge. Using the facilities of modern education, the Knighthood of Cave Spring High School again fights its chivalrous battle upon these pages. The Knights of old possessed many virtues. Among these were truth, knowledge, leadership, brotherhood, and strength. These virtues may be compared to the figures of a chess set with the queen representing truth, the pawn—knowledge, the bishop—leadership, the castle—brotherhood and the knight—strength. Reflecting the ageless struggle of the chess game, the onslaught flows through the varied moods and expressions of its intricate campaign. It smiles with our humor and applauds our honors; it cheers upon the gridiron and ponders within our minds, for each section retraces the memories of a year gone by. Reminisce, laugh, and enjoy, as you stroll through the fields of battle, as every step is reserved especially for you.

dedication

Miss Grace Draper

The Cave Spring of yesterday and today is closely woven with threads of brotherhood, loyalty, and memory—threads of infinite length stretching far into the future. Guiding these threads to form a perfect and unique whole requires delicate precision. No other hands more capable, more willing, nor more endearing could be found for this task than those of Miss Grace Draper, our guidance counselor, to whom we dedicate this, our 1963 Accolade, as a symbol of our admiration and appreciation.

Miss Draper looks amused at a student's reason for wanting a schedule change.

MRS. ADELENE KIRBY

In this, our 1963 ACCOLADE we have tried to reflect a little of all that Cave Spring has meant to us—something of the warmth, the democracy, and the comradeship that we have found here. It is for this reason that we dedicate our yearbook to one who has summarized all this to us, and to her also because of the patience, enthusiasm and never-failing interest she has shown in all that we are and do. Because of your untiring efforts and loyalty to Cave Spring we dedicate this yearbook to you, Mrs. Adelene Kirby.

Mrs. Kirby looks over the sign-in sheet to make sure all teachers are present.

The mistress of the chess board, the queen, reigns as almighty over her fortress. The queen is likened unto our administration, powerful and eminent. Our teachers at Cave Spring High School have instilled in us a desire for truth. This same desire was displayed in the knights of old as they fought for what they believed was right. Yes, the knights fought for truth and justice during a time of utter turmoil. So our teachers help to mold our young minds and characters, plotting our courses for humanity. The queen wields truth and knowledge in the struggle for maturity, and as the mist of battle subsides, she has made a man.

Placing his responsibilities uppermost in his mind, Mr. Con A. Davis has captured respect and esteem in our fond memories of Cave Spring High School.

Serving his seventh year, our principal is a graduate of King College, Bristol, Tennessee, receiving his Masters in Education from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1955. Before coming to Cave Spring, Mr. Davis coached football and basketball at William Fleming High School, Washington and Lee University, and McCallie Prep School in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Surpassing the administrative duties of his office, Mr. Davis is devoted to instilling character and pride within his students; may it be the classroom, the parade route, or the gridiron, we have relected his outstanding work by our countless trophies, awards, and honors.

assistant principals

MR. SPIGLE

Cave Spring High School is indebted to Mr. Jack R. Spigle for his tireless efforts in the role of assistant-principal and teacher, ending his seventh year at our school.

Mr. Spigle received a Bachelor's Degree at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He later got his Master of Education at the University of Virginia.

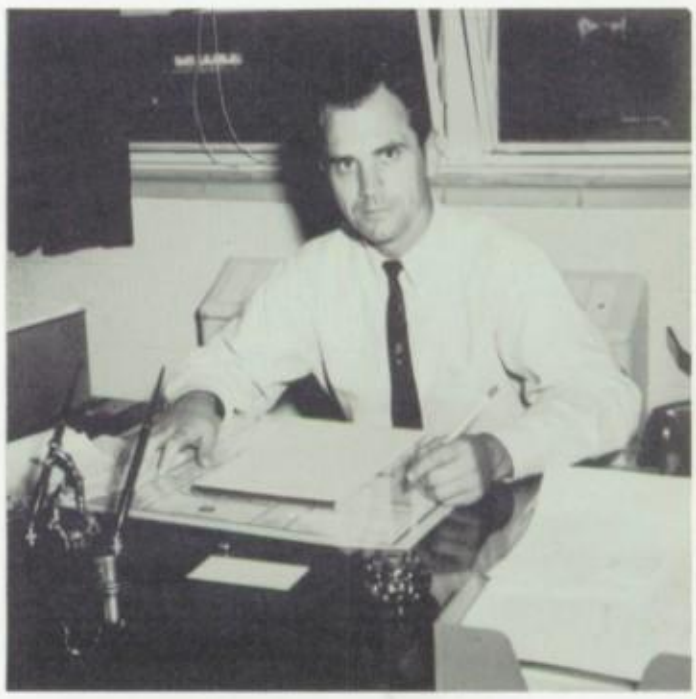
For his efforts as assistant-principal, and as a teacher, he has won a place in the heart of Cave Spring High forever.

MR. EDMUNDS

Mr. Bill Edmunds is a welcome and familiar figure in the halls of Cave Spring High School, serving his third year as assistant-principal and fulfilling his seventh year as head football coach.

Mr. Edmunds received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Duke University, and attended summer classes at Roanoke College and Lynchburg College.

Cave Spring will always remember Mr. Edmunds for his dedication as both a coach and assistant-principal. His ceaseless devotion for the development of our schools athletic and academic departments has given him our profound respect and admiration.



Mrs. Adelene Kirby

As anyone walked into the main office this year, he was probably greeted by a young lady who looked up from her typewriter and said, "Yes, what can I do for you?", in a very polite manner. She was probably one of the ten girls who, under the supervision of Mrs. Kirby, had kept the office running smoothly throughout the day. The office staff had mimeographed all tests, taken phone messages, typed senior transcripts, and done various other paper work for the administration and faculty and, at the same time, were taught good office procedure. But their greatest achievement was being able to put up with students and teachers who came in at the most inopportune times and asked the most trivial questions about information that had already been given them over the intercom twenty dozen times.

Miss Grace Draper aids Lawton Davis in her scheduling

This year, students entering the Guidance Office (and there were many) became aware of the atmosphere of friendliness which prevailed there.

Every morning found Mr. Thompson in his office signing excuses for boys and Mrs. Hudson signing for the girls. But, this was only part of the job of the Guidance Department. Every period of the school day Miss Kirkwood, Miss Draper, Mr. Tisinger and Mr. Dupree gave information and counseling to all students who requested it. They were anxious and interested to help in such personal problems as class scheduling, career-planning, social adjustment, health, or individual personality problems.

language department

Miss Penny McElroy, Latin; Mrs. Faye Mattney, French; Miss Dolores Wilson, Spanish.

The Language Department at Cave Spring consists of English, Latin, French, and Spanish. English is required of all students. A new course added to the Latin department made four years of Latin available. Mrs. Todd and Miss McElroy conducted the Latin classes and Mrs. Matney taught most of the French. French I, II, and III are taught and Spanish I and II are also available. Miss Wilson hopes to add a Spanish III conversation class next year. With the exception of English, which is required for five years, Latin is the most popular language, with French and Spanish not far behind.

In addition to language courses, Mrs. Beck conducted a class in speech and Mrs. Orr taught classes in reading for any juniors and seniors who were interested in improving their reading ability.

Mrs. Ann Seddon, Mrs. Marie Stephens, Mrs. Herley Hudson, Miss Maria Janez, English.

Mrs. Lurlene Todd, Latin; Mr. Al Echols, Mrs. Dorothy Beck, English.

Mr. George Akers, Physics; Mrs. Mabel Peters, Mr. Richard Tisinger, Biology; Mrs. Billie Reid, Chemistry; Mr. Ashby Coffindaffer, General Science.

"Zelda, name two animals found on the continent of Africa."

"Uh, ephalants and agitators."

Zelda may be slightly mixed up now, but you can be sure that she will soon be straightened out by one of our able and dedicated natural science teachers.

But the natural science department does not consist merely of biology, which Zelda (and many other Cave Spring students have difficulty in passing) but chemistry, physics, math classes, and general science. This year a new math class was added to the curriculum, that being advanced algebra. It is an optional credit course and is recommended to anyone planning to enter college.

Something new was added to the chemistry and physics classes. It is a split period. It was arranged so that the class might spend two periods rather than one in the laboratory, thus being able to complete more lengthy and involved experiments.

Mrs. Lucy Montague, Mr. Arthur Mellen, Mrs. Dolores Peters, General Science.

Miss Iva Hylton, Geometry; Miss Gayle Fitzgerald, Mr. Jerry Glass, Algebra I; Mrs. Mary Gwinn, Math 8; Miss Jean Abbott, Algebra II.

Mrs. Leona Robbins, Mrs. Lois Cox, Mrs. Elizabeth Wetsel, Business.

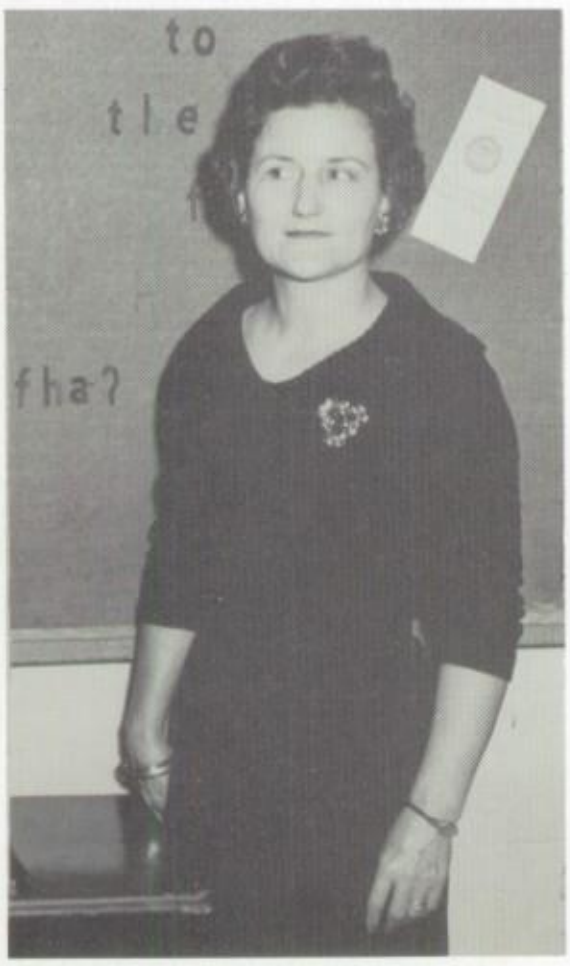
commercial department

The commerical department, under the leadership of Mrs. Leona Robbins, Mrs. Lois Cox, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wetzel provide the varied classes of Typing I and II, and Shorthand, Bookkeeping and Office Practice. In these classes girls are trained for the varied fields of office work. Jobs for qualified girls are obtained through Vocational Office Practice and these girls attend school for a half-day and work the rest of the day. Through the efforts of the teachers in the commerical department, many students have been inspired as future leaders in the business world. By having an adequate number of typewriters and other office machines the commercial classes have shown great efforts in producing business students.

vocational department

The vocational department consists of home economics for girls and agriculture and shop for boys. The home economics leadership is given to the students by Mrs. Esta Catron. Cooking, sewing, household handiwork and artistic works are learned by all home economics students. The delightful aromas which escape from the home economic kitchen are proof of their abilities. In the shop building, however, comes the whi-r-r of saws and the hammering of nails as Mr. Hardy and Mr. Morrison teach their students the fundamentals of shopwork and motors. They present to the boys a chance to build and discuss carpentry and other handiwork.

Mrs. Esta Catron, Home Economics.



Mr. Griffin Hardy, Agriculture; Mr. Keith Morrison, Industrial Arts.

Mr. Scott Quillen, government.

Mr. Jerry Dupree, government.

Mr. Wesley Thompson, Miss Reba Wood, Mrs. May Johnson, Mr. Rudy Lacy, history.

social studies department

This department includes the subjects of World History, U. S. and American History, and American Government. The familiar phrases of "Redcoats," "eighteenth amendment," the Kennedy Administration," and "communism" are heard as one passes the history rooms. The government classes studied comparative governments, communism, and the court system of the United States. A trip was taken by the senior government classes to a local courtroom for an actual experience in courtroom procedures.

Through the courses of U. S. history, world history, and geography, the lower grade students were well prepared for the more advanced classes in American history and Government.

fine arts department

. . . fa, so, la, te, don't underestimate the power of a woman. A good example of "the power of a woman" is a look at our choir and art department.

In her first year at Cave Spring, Miss Thomason breathed new life into our choir. This year the choir met during and after school so those students who could not work choir into their schedule would have a chance to voice their artistic talent in song. The choir gave four Christmas concerts, one of which was a joint concert with the band.

But there is another dynamic woman with us—Miss Dunham. In her first year here, this lady has taken over the art department. She and her students have displayed striking displays of art in the show case outside room 115. Miss Dunham assisted in making the paper-mache dwarfs on the F.H.A. float in the Christmas parade.

But all the fine art instructors are not women. With the extra burden of choir directing off his hands, Mr. Noble has been able to spend more time with the band this year. In addition to the regular sixth period practice, he set up a seventh period study hall for anyone who wanted to practice or secure private instruction. He also organized an ensemble band, which was made up of some of the outstanding musicans, to play more challenging music.

We hope our music and art departments will continue to be as active in the future.

Mr. Paul Noble, band; Miss Diana Thomason, choir.

Miss Janice Dunham, art.

Mrs. Elizabeth Richardson.

library department

"We get to go to the library today," the eternal cry which rings from almost every study hall reflects the eagerness to learn from our 7,000 books. With the hard-working library staff mending, checkings, and straightening our valuable supply of great literature, we enjoy a great luxury of reading good books.

Mrs. Jill Jones, Mrs. Sara Sink, Miss Grace Draper.

physical education department

The addition of parallel bars and a spring board to the gym equipment enabled the physical education department to enlarge the choice of activities. In addition to basketball, baseball, volleyball, and rhythmic exercises, advanced tumbling is available for both boys and girls. Along with the physical activities, students study modern hygiene and driver education.

Mrs. Crowder, Mrs. Sublett.

driver education department

Beep! beep! "Around the far turn, we have 'Crash' Crowder followed closely by 'Speed-Shift' Sublett, here at Cave Spring 500."

As their cars screech into the parking lot and come to an abrupt halt, our two able driver training instructors step shakily from their automobiles weary from another period of driver training.

This is a slightly exaggerated account of Mrs. Crowder's and Mrs. Sublett's end to a normal school day, but they did have a right to be slightly tired. Every day our driver training teachers took seven classes of future safe drivers out onto the streets of Roanoke, deftly and patiently guiding them through bustling city traffic and on and off crowded highways. Though there were many close calls and hair-raising experiences, those taking their classes for a term of six weeks did learn to drive—and to drive well.

Though we are sorry to say that Mrs. Crowder and Mrs. Sublett had to leave us after the fourth six-weeks to teach at Northside High School, they left their mark—the better drivers at Cave Spring High.

Mr. Tommy Jones, Mr. Jack Lindsey, Mr. Bill Edmunds, Mr. Rudy Lacy.

Mrs. Maggie Wimmer, Mrs. Sally Thomas, Mrs. Edna Sumner, Mrs. Elsie Haynes, Mrs. Helen Pearson, Mrs. Gertrude Collins.

cooks and janitors

Three lunch periods during the school day keep the ladies in the cafeteria very busy. After a strenuous morning the students and teachers welcome the chance to sit down to a hot meal. Arriving early, the ladies work all morning preparing a well-balanced meal. By the time the cleaning-up is finished the ladies have spent a majority of their day for us.

The job of the janitors is a very important one for comfortable and sanitary conditions of the school. The rest rooms are kept clean and well supplied with soap and paper towels. Broken locks on lockers, shades that either don't stay down or that fall down, broken window locks, and many other such problems face the janitors every day.

Mr. William Burwell, Mr. Clarence Wooding, Mrs. Edmonia Bond, Mr. C. P. Harper, Mr. W. L. Lavinder, (missing) Mr. Charlie Guerrant.

Being one of many the pawn is paralleled to the student. In his quest for knowledge, he is but a small part of an unchained potential. Before going into battle, the knight had to be trained from an early age in the knowledge of both his enemy and the world around him. Thus are we the knights of Cave Spring, taught from the eighth grade to our senior year, knowledge of the world around us before going forth into the battle of life. As brothers, the student body is the most powerful force of a castle; as individuals they are rashly limited to the chains of submission. For then, are we not our brothers' keeper?

College Boards, exams, the Senior Play, job application, picture proofs, graduation announcements, scholarship tests, the Shamrock Dance . . . these are but a few of the activities that kept the Senior Class busy during the past year.

One - hundred and thirty - three seniors slaved, shouted, sighed and studied through their final year at Cave Spring High School.

Even as many seniors reminisced they were reminded that graduation is not the end, not even the beginning of the end. But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning.

the junior class

If a visitor were to come to Cave Spring High just to observe the junior class, he would get a busy and varied picture. This years juniors faced the same obstacles that all junior classes face, and threw in a few more just to prove its endurance. There were those old favorites, the dough-nut sales, and the Junior Play, the committees and meetings; trying, but endurable and enjoyable times. All were means to secure the ends—the Junior-Senior Prom.

Many hours of planning and worry, the successes and failures, the bright ideas and the not so bright ideas, this is the junior year at Cave Spring. Under the experienced and invaluable guidance of its sponsors, the junior class met and conquered all these hazards and emerged at the end of the year, a group of budding seniors.

Our crusaders, the clubs, provide the versatility and might of the castle. Through integrity and leadership these clubs are represented by a bishop. They combat deceit with honor and ignorance with education. They debut maturity before an adult showcase, for their aims are to help and to build. In our school organizations we, too, are given the opportunity to accept the responsibility of leadership, as officers and committee chairmen. Though many of us are not fortunate to be chosen, we can learn from the example of these leaders.

The goal of every student while in Cave Spring High School is to belong to the National Honor Society. This organization is dedicated to the upholding of high scholarship and honor. They stress this at all times in all places as a vitally important part of life. Only those students who are strong in character and high in their scholastic averages are tapped for membership.

Each year the club awards a scholarship to an outstanding and deserving member of the Senior Class. To provide money for the scholarship they sponsor a hop. Besides these activities they presented a play, "The Holy Nativity," for a Christmas assembly and published the honor roll at the end of each six weeks.

Under the leadership of President Sands Woody, ably assisted by Judy Dart, Vice-President; Secretary, Beth Flora; Treasurer, Mary Dugan; and Reporter, Gail Stein, our S.C.A. did much last year to promote better relations and understanding between students and teachers.

In this attempt, they published a Cave Spring Handbook which explained the curriculum, clubs, activities, and gave additional general information. Also the S.C.A. published a Student Index which was a printed program of the names and telephone numbers of all students and teachers.

During the Christmas season the S.C.A. sponsored a Christmas basket program. Each homeroom filled a basket with food which was then distributed to needy families by the Lions Club.

Another activity which caused much excitement was the announcement of the possibility of a foreign exchange student at Cave Spring. Our S.C.A. worked with the P.T.A. to help promote and finance this projec "Shut that door!!" That quotation may not sound familiar to the average student, but to the members of the Cave Spring year book staff, it is a most common exclamation. It has been used frequently by our advisor, Miss Hylton, as she strove for privacy during the "top secret" conferences which took place very often in the annual room.

At the beginning of the year, the staff held many such conferences in planning the theme, layout, and cover for the ACCOLADE.

They then set to work, and hard work it was, selling ads, and selling the annuals themselves, taking pictures and identifying them. The copy staff worked diligently writing up clubs, activities, and sports.

It was hard work, every seventh period and some extra Saturdays, but in this case the end does justify the means. No work can describe the feeling and pride experienced by every staff member when they saw the finished product.

Words and pictures have captured the moods and impressions of another year for posterity.

JAN HUNTER, Editor

Sponsors: Mrs. Dorothy Beck, Mrs. Lurlene Todd.

Fiery editorials, entertaining articles, and informative columns, are just part of the enlightening material that appeared in our monthly school newspaper this year to keep the students well informed. But bringing out a clear and accurately printed newspaper requires good leadership. This task was in the capable hands of Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Todd, the newspaper sponsors. Also helping to oversee operations of the staff was editor-in-chief, Jan Hunter.

While keeping the students well informed of all school activities, the staff members gained valuable experience in journalistic techniques. This was achieved both through practical experience and by participation in two journalistic conventions. These were the Southern Inter-Scholastic Press Association convention at Lexington and the University of Richmond clinic where school newspapers were criticized and better techniques were learned.

The delegates to these conventions, like all members of the Knight Letter staff had no less than a "B" average in English and maintained a "C" average in all other classes.

latin club

"Julius Caesar was not really a bad man—just immoral."

This is the motto of the Cave Spring Latin Club. In their togas and tunics and led by Mrs. Todd and Miss MacElroy, they explored the facets of ancient Rome.

Our Latin Club is a very select group of over one hundred members having a B average in Latin and at least a C in all other classes. Because of its size the club had to be divided into four groups: the plebians, first year students, the patricians, second year students; the senators, pupils in their third or fourth year; the provincials, students who no longer take Latin, but take an active part in club activities.

The activities of the Latin Club were varied and numerous. There was the annual slave auction at which time the first year students in the club were sold to the highest bidders who became their masters for one week. The masters took advantage of this week to parade their "purchase" through the school, having their slaves do many trivial and sometimes embarrassing tasks. The week was climaxed by a festive banquet—Roman style—in the school cafeteria where food was eaten, skits performed, and fun was had by everyone.

In addition to the slave sale, there was caroling in the halls at Christmas, bake sales throughout the year, and a Latin Club assembly which entertained the student body and the faculty.

As one can see, Latin may be dead, but our lively Romans were far from it this year.

french club

The French Club, in its first year of organization, planned several events during this past year. Under the leadership of Mrs. Matney, the officers appointed committees to carry out the organizing of the year's activities. At Christmas the club went caroling at the Rehabilitation Center in Roanoke and afterwards returned to the Windsor Hill's Methodist Church for hot chocolate and doughnuts.

In the spring came the French Club assembly, an annual affair started this year. Chairmen were Peter Kesler, Karen Lox and Sally Anne McNeil.

Plans were made for a French Honor Society, a national club in which members with a semester average of B and no unsatisfactory conduct are eligible for a pin of national recognition.

Fund raising projects and dues put dollars in the club treasury and helped to finance a picnic which ended the activities for 1962-63.

The eighty-five members of the French Club have combined their efforts to produce a successful and profitable first year as a new club and hope to have many more such years in the future.

The week of November eleventh, American Education Week, actually began the year for the FTA members. A play which was written by Karen Lox was presented to the student body in an assembly. During the week each member was assigned to do two hours work for a teacher and presented their teacher with a sucker. The teachers were honored with a tea one afternoon after school.

Their monthly meetings were designed to acquaint them with the profession and were usually followed by refreshments. Miss Draper talked on college entrance requirement, Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, the club's founder, installed the new officers and student teachers spoke on their experiences. Other activities included working as student aids. In this capacity they graded papers, kept records, worked as lab assistants and substituted for elementary teachers in case of absence. They also visited the nearby elementary schools to assist the teachers.

To provide incentive for entering the profession, each year the Club awards a scholarship to a deserving member.

Donna Higgins, Beckie Neal, and Frances Holt put the finishing touches on the F. H. A. Christmas Parade float.

For the first time the Cave Spring Chapter of Future Homemakers of America celebrates its membership in the Star Federation. This Federation consists of western Virginia Chapters and sets certain goals for each and every F. H. A. Chapter.

The F. H. A. is an active organization which sets for itself many goals which are more than reached. One of their major goals is sponsoring a foster child. They provide clothing and food for her every few months. Further realizing the importance of welfare in the community they sponsor an Easter egg hunt at the Lutheran orphanage in Salem.

During the year each member must complete an individual project and co-operate in club projects. Some of these were to publish a yearbook of activities and achievements to decorate the show cases in North Wing and the second floor hall, and decorating a float for the Roanoke Christmas Parade.

In order to finance these activities, the club sponsored bake sales, a hop and at Christmas sold handmade decorations to students, faculty, and members of the community.

DWIGHT FRALIN

"Where do we go from here?" was the topic of Dwight's speech which won for him the first place award in the Bedford-Roanoke-Botetourt Federation Public Speaking Contest. As first place winner he received a medal and the chance to compete in the Blue Ridge District Contest in April.

The Future Farmers of America is composed of boys who are interested in farming and farm activities. Teams for judging crops and trees are formed of outstanding club members. These teams compete with other chapters for top honors in judging.

Mr. Hardy, their advisor, guides them to better farming practices and assists them in improving their leadership qualities.

hi-y

All members of the Hi-Y are boys whose aim is to extend service to others at all times. This club which is sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. forms projects similar to its sponsoring organization. The boys at C. S. H. S. who are members of this club endeavor to build strength and skill through a basketball team. Also, they instill in each boy the sense of fair play and high character traits.

science club

Science club members enjoyed a challenging trip into the understanding of the world around them. The promotion of scientific thinking in the school is the club's main interest. The Club was organized this year with few members and "great expectations"; however, the size of the club was no obstacle, as the members worked harder to make their activities succeed.

Led by their president, Tom Snider, and their sponsors, Mrs. D. Peters, Mr. Mellen, and Mrs. M. Peters, the club took a field trip to Oak Ridge to visit the Atomic Research Laboratory. The club also participated actively in the yearly Science Fair, in which they displayed their thought-provoking projects.

A member of the Thespian club has a right to be proud of it. It is not just "any" club that one can join by merely signing a name to a sheet of paper. Membership in this club is on a point system. To be eligible for membership, a person must have at least ten points. These points are acquired by anyone who has performed in any dramatic presentation such as a play or dramatic reading. For instance, ten points are automatically awarded to anyone with the lead in a three-act play. Members acquire additional points for participation in activities which further the purpose of the club. This is to promote high standards and ideals in dramatic arts.

The club has a ceremony every spring for the installment of incoming members. These new members receive a certificate, a membership card, and a card formally congratulating them on their acceptance into the club.

At the end of this year the Thespians presented a play, "The Happy Journey," directed by their sponsor, Mrs. Beck. Each actor played his part well, which exemplifies the motto of the club—"Act well your part; there all the honor lies!"

Cindy Price and Peter Kesler portray characters from Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey from Camden to Trenton" one-act play which was presented as an assembly program.

Our projection club is composed of a group of boys who have shown a serious interest in the operation and maintenance of audio-visual equipment. The Club is organized so that one or more boys are available every period of the day. They carry the equipment to the classrooms, operate the projectors, run the tape recorders or record players, thus allowing the teacher more time to coordinate the audio-visual materials with the regular class work. The club was under the direction of Mr. Richard Tisinger the first semester, and Mr. Tommy Jones the second semester. They provided instruction in the operation and maintenance of the equipment. This club is a vital and important member of the school. They render a service indispensable to us at Cave Spring.

The young men which make up this unit certainly deserve a salute for their unheralded work. While we delight in a play production, or assembly, they are busily adjusting lighting effects, sound, and numerous electrical devices to add to our enjoyment. In addition they are responsible for creating props and caring for stage furniture.

This is a fitting goal for the members at Cave Spring. It covers everything necessary for the development of the future leaders of the community. The 4-H Club has shown itself as a worthy pastime for those students who live by its creed. Certainly it has proven its worth at Cave Spring High.

Organized this year, these people have realized the great need for art and music appreciation. They feel that culture is for the young, too, and this enjoyment should be shared throughout their lives. On the path to sophistication, this group has taken a large step to make our school a finer institution of learning. Contained within this advancement was a trip to the museums and the Mosque Theater of Richmond, the production of a comedy, "Take Three Girls," and a trip to see the presentation of the Messiah by George Handel.

This year, under the direction of Diana Thomason, the choir of Cave Spring has shown its fine ability through several concerts. These concerts were held throughout the month of December in keeping with the Christmas spirit. Among these concerts were: caroling at Crossroads Mall, a concert at Christ Episcopal Church in Roanoke, and a Christmas assembly presented to the student body. The choir also furnished the music for the Honor Society's Christmas Pageant and held a joint concert with the band for the P. T. A. Hard work and determination were shown by members of the afternoon choir, composed of those unable to take choir in a regularly scheduled period. These students, along with first period choir, put forth great effort throughout their concert season.

Our Cave Spring Band, as usual, had many and varied activities this year under the direction of Paul Noble. They managed to whip together entertaining and sometimes extravagant half-time shows for all home and many away football games. To round out the band's marching season they marched in the Roanoke and Salem Christmas parades.

As the marching season ended they immediately went to work on concert music. Due to the added publicity received from the band's European tour, they were accepted readily in concerts wherever they performed. During January the young musicians played a concert at Hotel Roanoke for the members of the Thursday Morning Music Club. The band also played two concerts during school for the student body. One of these was a special Christmas concert. The other was performed early in March. Also in March they presented a concert for the public featuring William Skeet from the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music as guest conductor.

After participating in the District Festival Band competition, the band ended the year with the spring concert in May in which many soloists were featured.

The drill team has been an active part of the Cave Spring Band this year. This group consists of 23 girls whose main purpose is to add to the attractiveness of the band. The Drill Team participated in pep rallies, halftime shows, and parades. They led the band in halftime performances in all Cave Spring games, and on the V. M. I. and Washington and Lee campuses. This year for the first time they took part in the Bristol show, besides the annual Bristol parade. Other parades in which they marched were the Roanoke and Salem Christmas Parades and the Shrine Bowl Parade. A non-marching activity was ushering for band concerts. The girls also took over the job of selling season football tickets for the Recreation Foundation. A banquet rounded out the year's activities.

In the midst of wild excitement and always bubbling with ecstatic smiles, this year's varsity cheerleaders directed the student body and school supporters in cheers for our wonderful spirit.

To the list of school assemblies, these peppy girls added a morning pep rally besides selling tickets, getting student buses for our away games, and making teeth protectors for the football team.

Their yells and enthusiasm will be long remembered as one of the high points of our athletic schedule.

Pick any home J. V. game and you will see not only players, but their helpers, the cheerleaders, leading the boys to victory and sometimes. . . .well, let's just look at the light side. Their support at games and at pep rallies was in part responsible for the team's wins. This active and attractive group is made up of four eighth graders and four ninth graders. The ninth graders are Jane Whitman, Captain; Susan Martin, Co-Captain; Eddie Lynn Young and Linda St. Clair. The eighth graders are the three Nancy's, Nancy Powell, Nancy Hatcher, Nancy Dahmer, and Cindy Jamison.

His royal servant, the Knight, can be like no other than the athlete. This valiant soul has devoted his body to the service and glory of his school. Our knights are trained not only in the physical aspect of sports, but also in the moral aspect—to accept victory with humility and defeat with good sportsmanship. As Charles Loftus once wrote, "You can criticize him, but you can't discourage him. You can defeat his team, but you can't make him quit. He may not be an All-American, but he is an example of the American way. He is judged not for his race, not for his religion, not for his social standing or not for his finances, but by the democratic yardstick of how well he hits, tackles and sacrifices individual glory for the overall success of his team."

During the past six years Coach Bill Edmunds and associates, have successfully produced good football teams at Cave Spring. For the past two years the Black Knights have been undefeated. With the graduation of several top ball players last year, the oncoming season looked dim. But Coach Edmunds began football practice bright and early August 15th, in hopes of another undefeated season.

But as the old saying goes, "All good things must come to an end." After twenty-three consecutive games without a defeat, the Knights fell to mighty Covington. The Knights lost to Andrew Lewis but an ineligible player was discovered and the Knights gained the victory. The only other defeat was to cross-county rival, Patrick Henry, after which the Knights won the remaining five games thus completing a fine 8-2 season. Coach Edmunds said of the team, "This team has been a wonderful surprise." The ACCOLADE salutes the outstanding efforts of the 1962 edition of the Cave Spring Black Knights.

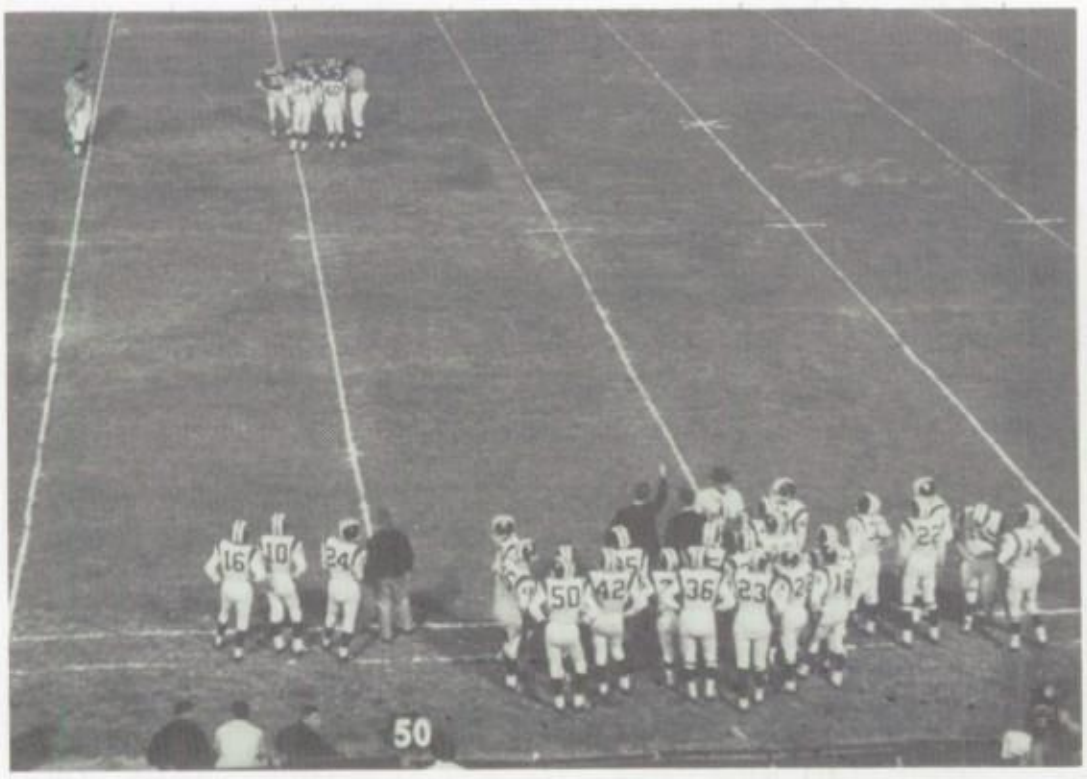
Cave Spring wins the toss and elects to receive against Andrew Lewis.



All eyes are glued to the field as the Knights do battle with the Patriots.

Jim Harper (24) shows form which gained him honors of "Mr. Touchdown."

Cave Spring 18—Bedford 6

The Knights captured their second victory of the young season by downing the Bedford Otters 18-6. Big Mike Saunders led the scoring with two touchdowns, a five-yard plunge in the first quarter and an 8-yard jaunt just before half-time. Johnny Craft climaxed the scoring with a 3-yard off tackle burst. All three extra points failed. The Otters avoided a shutout by scoring on a lateral to halfback, Bert Nance, who then pitched a long touchdown pass.

Cave Spring 7—Covington 45

The Knights traveled to Covington with high hopes of keeping their undefeated string intact, but it was rudely shattered by a fine Covington team. Before many of the fans got seated the Cougars had scored and were leading 26-0 at half-time. The Knights held Covington scoreless during the third period but Covington added 19 more in the final stanza. Cave Spring's only bright spot was Jimmy Harper's 85-yard kick off return. It was the Knights first defeat in 3 years.

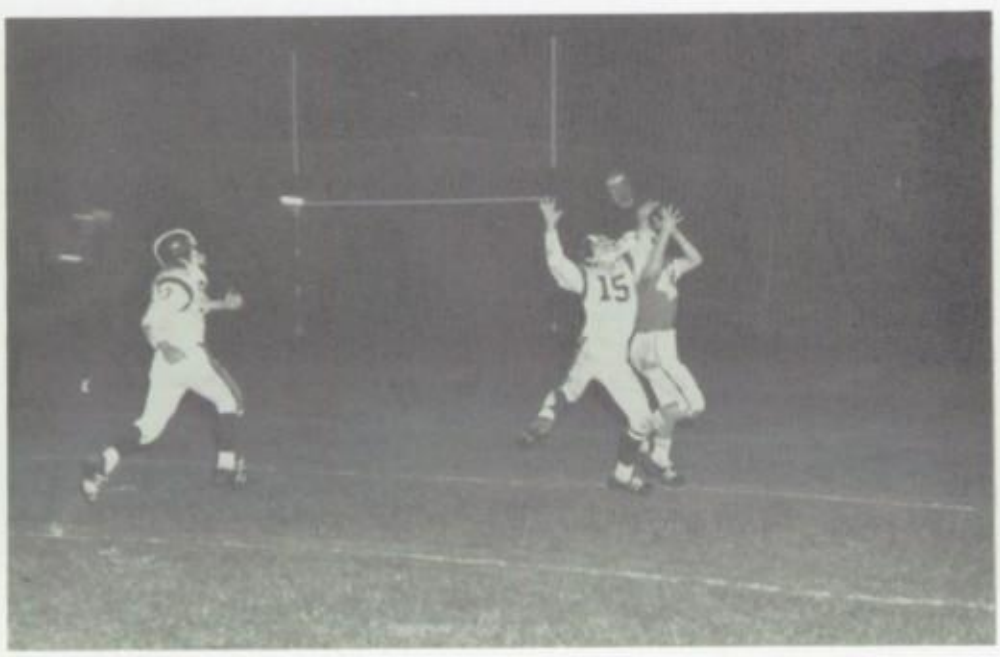
Cave Spring 0—Andrew Lewis 7

The Knights battled desperately before bowing to the powerful Wolverines of Andrew Lewis 7-0. More than 5,000 fans were on hand to see the Wolverines score the only touchdown of the game as an inspired Cave Spring defense held Andrew Lewis' potent scoring machine in check for three and one half quarters before quarterback Bob Bardsley bucked over from the one-yard line.

The Knights blew their chance at the biggest upset of the year when their offense bogged down on the Lewis second-yard line. Quarterback Dick Alvarez was thrown for an eight-yard loss while attempting to pass on the third down. Jim Harper's twenty-eight yard field goal attempt sailed wide on the fourth down.

A post-season discovery of an ineligible player on the Lewis team forced the Wolverines to forfeit their state championship and with it, their 10 victories, thus giving the Knights an 8-2 overall season record.

Dick Alvarez (15) knocks down pass intended for Lewis halfback, Russell Harris (43).

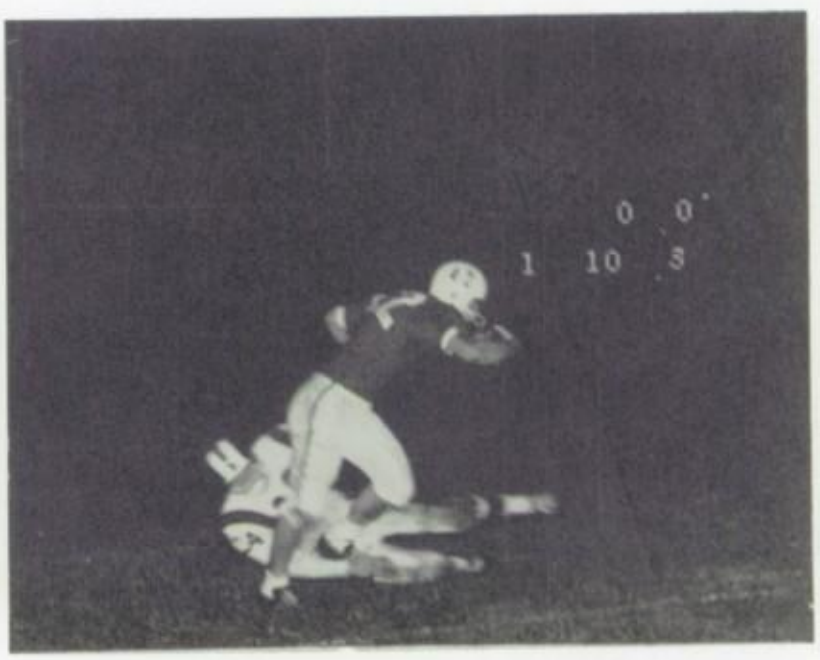


Cave Spring 7—Northside 6

The Black Knights opened their 1962 football season with a fine, spine-tingling victory over cross-county rival, Northside. The score was 7-6. Dick Alvarez, taking up where brother Bill left off, passed to Jimmy Harper for the first touchdown and after Harper's all-important place kick, the Knights led 7-0 at half-time. After battling to a scoreless third period the Vikings finally pushed across a score late in the fourth quarter. The extra point failed, thus giving the Knights their 22nd consecutive game without defeat.

Mike Smith (34) grabs pass and heads downfield, against Bassett.

Mike Smith (34) trips up Larry Leonhardt (42) of Andrew Lewis.



Holliday (20) and Wohlford (25) close in on Bassett's Arthur Waleski.

Cave Spring 0—Patrick Henry 28

The Knights battled the Patrick Henry Patriots to a scoreless tie during the first half, only to see the Patriots explode in the second half on the arm of Mac McClung and the fleet legs of Eddie Scruggs. Cave Spring dominated the first half as they threatened to score three times but couldn't reach paydirt. In the second half Scruggs scored three times for Patrick Henry and Tex Young scored once on a 30-yard run.

Dick Alvarez, Larry Wertz, and Mike Smith stood out on defense for the Knight as the Patriots were limited to only 19 yards rushing in the first half. Jim Harper and Mike Saunders were outstanding on offense.

Cave Spring 19—Bassett 7

The Knights celebrated homecoming with a decisive 19-7 victory over the highly regarded Bassett Bengals. Dick Alvarez scored the first Knight touchdown, as he intercepted a Bengal fumble and sprinted 90 yards to paydirt. Jimmy Harper's conversion made it 7-0. Mike Saunder's 5-yard blast made it 13-0 at half-time. Big Mike closed out the Knight scoring by bulling over from the three-yard line. Bassetts' only score came on a 5-yard blast up the middle. Mike Thacker and Mike Saunders were the Knight standouts. Jimmy Harper was crowned "Mr. Touchdown" and Marie Schilling, queen, during the half-time ceremonies.

Alvarez (15) picks up first down before being stopped by Wolverine's Cecil Blankenship (40).

Cave Spring 20—Martinsville 19

The Knights, fresh from their win over Bassett, continued their winning ways by stopping the inspired Bulldogs of Martinsville 20-19. Jim Harper scored first for the Knights as he pulled in a 59-yard scoring pass from Dick Alvarez on just the second play from scrimmage. The second score came, (midway in the second quarter,) on a fifteen-yard pass from Alvarez to Mike Smith. Harper converted both extra points and Cave Spring held what was thought to be a secure 14-0 lead at the half.

Billy Smith of Martinsville returned the second half kick-off, eighty-five yards for a touchdown, only to have Harper again steal the show by returning the kickoff eighty-five yards for a Cave Spring score.

The Knights withheld a frantic fourth quarter rally by the Bulldogs to secure their third one point victory of the year.

Cave Spring 7—William Byrd 6

Cave Spring spoiled William Byrd's Homecoming festivities with a hard fought 7-6 victory at Byrd Field.

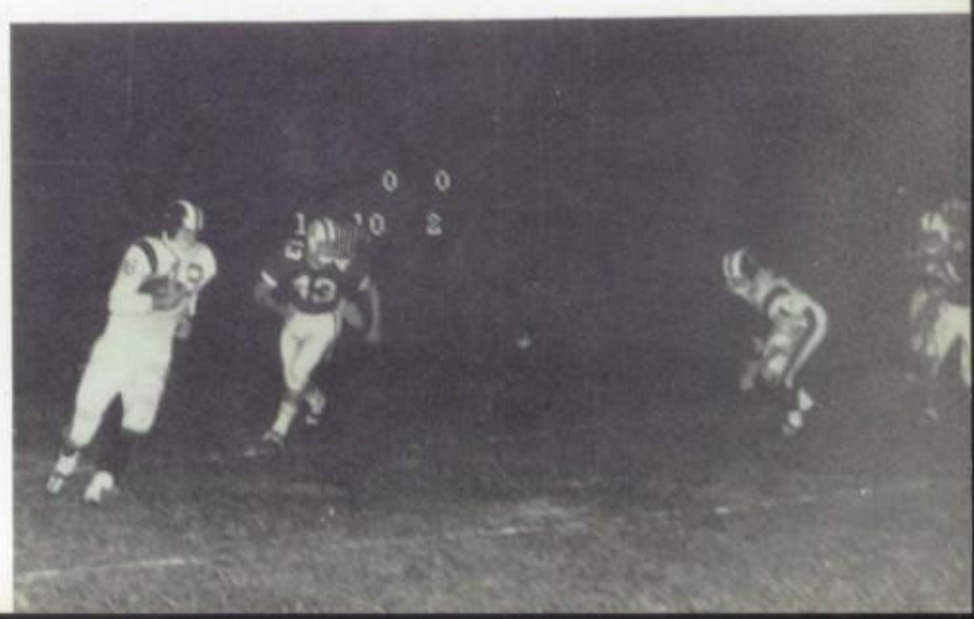
The Knights scored first late in the second quarter, as Mike Saunders bulled over from the one-yard line, following a thirteen-yard scamper by Dick Alvarez. Harper's point after attempt was true to the mark. The Knights held a 7-0 advantage at the half.

Early in the third quarter the Terriers marched sixty-four yards in ten plays for their only score. The all important extra point attempt was wide.

The clock ran out with the Terriers on the Knight's twenty-five yard line as a last field goal attempt fell short as the gun sounded.

The Knight's fourth victory of the campaign was paced by the outstanding defensive performances of Sands Woody, Jimmy Harper, Jim Goad, and Hal Hill.

Saunders (48) jaunts for first down against Lewis as Russell Harris (43) gives chase.



Cave Spring 7—Drewry Mason 0

The Knights slipped and slid to a hard fought victory over a scrappy Drewry Mason club. As usual the Drewry Mason field was covered with mud and that limited Cave Spring's fine running game. Both teams threatened to score but at half-time the score was 0-0. With only 3 minutes gone in the third quarter Dick Alvarez put his team on the scoreboard. Jimmy Harper ran the extra point. Bruce Davidson and Larry Wertz led the team defensively as they made key tackles through out the game, thus preventing the Spartans from scoring.

Cave Spring 15—Franklin County 12

Probably Cave Spring's biggest rivalry was won by a foot as it was two years ago as Jimmy Harper's 34-yard field goal tripped the Eagles 15-12. In 1960 star fullback Galen Conner booted the Knights to a 10-7 victory and an undefeated season.

The Eagles got off to a fast start as they managed two quick scores before half-time. But the Knights were determined and marched down the field as Dick Alvarez sneaked over from the one-yard line, leaving the score 12-6 at half-time. After an inspiring half-time pep talk the Knights returned to do battle. Quarterback Dick Alvarez filled the air with passes and turned Jimmy Harper and Mike Thacker loose on the ground. Harper promptly responded with a touchdown and with 4 minutes remaining kicked the game's winning field goal, thus completing a successful season.

j.v. football

The 1962 edition of the Cave Spring High School Junior Varsity Football team is composed of fine young men who combined their brain and brawn into one of the finest Junior Varsity squads ever assembled at Cave Spring. The boys earned valuable experience and the majority of the group will take the big step toward Varsity next year.

Led by flashy halfback Lewis Jamison and bruising fullback Doug Crisp, the Baby Knights looked very impressive despite their 2-5-1 record. Some of the losses were by one point margins, which can make or break a season. The ACCOLADE salutes the fine efforts of the Junior Varsity football team for a job well-done.

Like the past freshman football teams, this year's team went winless; but this year's team was better. They are a group of willing young men who put a lot of time and hard work into their team. The significant factor in the team's success is the new coach, Scotty Quillen. Though these boys didn't win a game, they gained valuable experience and should be the future stars in the years to come. Coach Quillen instilled in the boys the spirit of rough, but fair play, and good sportmanship. The team elected Gary Flora and Mike Christly as outstanding back and lineman.

Under the fine leadership of Coach Rudy Lacy, this year's courtmen for the Knights hustled to gain a respectable 11-10 season. This year they played one of their toughest schedules and for the first time in Knight's history, they beat Andrew Lewis. They were the first team to beat Lewis this season, breaking Lewis' 12 game winning streak. In beating Lewis, they came out on top in the Salem Rotary's annual Christmas tournament. In the Blue Ridge tourney, the Knights lost the first game to a determined Franklin County team, to finish fifth in the league for the season.

Dick Alvarez led the Knights in scoring, with a fine 19 point average most of the season. He also led the Blue Ridge District and City-County in scoring. Sands Woody was the most consistent man for the Knights, averaging double figures and working on the backboard, Barry Flora, a real hustler, was a fine back court man and ball handler. He was given a lot of competition by Dwight Fralin. Jimmy King lost out in the battle of the books, but played a fine first half of the season, averaging in double figures. Billy Craighead was the Knights big man on the boards, and was assisted by Stan Strong as center.

j.v. basketball

This year, the Jayvees, under the leadership of Coach Jerry Glass, started the season fairly well, but ended the season with a 5-15 record. They won their first game against Fieldale in an overtime thriller. The baby Knights returned home full of high hopes but were over-run by the Franklin County Eagles. They then journeyed to Northside and squeezed by the junior Vikings in a tough cage battle. High scorer for the team was John Lox with an average of 10.4 points per game.

This year, the freshmen basketball team, under the direction of Coach Scott Quillen, forged to a 7-7 record against many strong teams. The team plays the four county high school freshmen teams. These are Northside, Andrew Lewis, and William Byrd.

The Knights' season started well with a win over William Byrd, and two more against Northside. They then lost their first game to strong Andrew Lewis, but retaliated in the next game against the Wolverines defeating them 37-34. The Lewis team returned mauling the Knights 51-34. The freshmen finished out the season by beating Byrd twice and Northside once, then they lost another game to Lewis.

girls basketball team

The Cave Spring Girl's team ended its season with a never-say-die spirit. Although they didn't come out on the large scoring end, valuable experience was gained by the team under the guidance of their coach, Mrs. Jill Jones. It is hoped that this year was a step in a new direction for the girl's team—that being, from intramural basketball to interscholastic competition. The 1963 team was composed of girls from the ninth through the twelfth grades who were selected through special try-outs. The competition was steep and their victories were hard fought and well-earned. Our hats are off to this fine team and their coach.

Under the expert supervision of Mrs. Sara Sink, the tumbling team has progressed as a well organized and experienced group. With the addition of new equipment, the team has been able to develop many routines which they were unable to attempt previously. The parallel bars are for strengthening limbs and perfecting balance. Also new is the spring board which is used by the more experienced members in turning flips and diving. Completing the new equipment pieces are eight new floor mats.

The tumbling team gave a very impressive assembly in the gym using their new equipment. Also they gave several presentations outside of school.

With the correct instruction and many practices, the Cave Spring Tumbling Team is a fine asset to our organizations.

This year's track team was made up mostly of sophomores and freshmen, having only six returning lettermen. There were only 2 seniors on the squad. But all was not dim for the Knights, they made fine showings everywhere they went. The new track was not ready this season but will be completed before next year. With the new addition of the track, more boys are expected to participate. As in all sports, Cave Spring had a team ready to take all comers.

The 1963 edition of Cave Spring's baseball team was optimistic but it had to be considered as a building year. There were only two seniors and two juniors on the team. The remaining squad members were freshmen and sophomores. Led by fastball pitcher Cecil Ashwell and hard hitting sophomore Allison Galliher the Knights worked to improve their 1-15 record of last year. They played a 16-game schedule including 8 home games.

The soul of a school is contained within the castle. Brotherhood is sharply reflected by this soul of a school—features and activities. These features echo the vibrant yells and smiles which pulsate from the heart of our fortress and battlefield. The thrill of music and the inspiration of spirit are but a few of its beautiful moods. Our activities at Cave Spring are many and varied and present a pleasant respite from our studies. They enable us to make new acquaintances and share our joys and frustrations with old friends.

The band and boosters pose in front of their chartered jet in the Baltimore airport.

We grew in brotherhood and knowledge

Internationally famous—those are the words which best describe our Cave Spring Band. Last summer that organization and many band "boosters" toured seven European countries. In addition to presenting an accurate picture of American music abroad, they were living examples of the American way to everyone they met.

The trip began here at the school at 10:00 A.M., June 11, when the four chartered buses moved off for Baltimore. The one hundred and sixty-four travelers arrived in Baltimore at 6:00 that evening and took off at 9:00 P.M. in a chartered jet. They landed at London airport six hours later in typical London weather —rain, the only bad weather of the trip.

The band spent four days in that grand old city, touring famous historical landmarks, and meeting and talking to the British people. On their third day, they traveled to Mill Hill, an exclusive boys' school outside London, where they gave a concert for the students and were taken on tours of the campus by the boys themselves.

After a calm trip across the English Channel and a train ride through France, the group arrived in Paris, where they stayed for three days. While there they took tours of the city, visiting the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, the Arc de Triumphe, the Palace of Versailles and SHAPE, headquarters for NATO. As an extra added side trip the band attended the Follies Bergere where they were highly entertained.

From Paris, they traveled by train to Nice, France, on the Riviera. Here the band marched in the International Lions Convention Parade where they won second place in competition with over twenty other bands from all over the world. The irony of this feat is that their instruments did not arrive until the band had marched over fifteen blocks! After that strenuous parade and most of the next day, the students and chaperones lounged upon the beach at Nice getting a much needed rest.

But this rest soon came to an end for the next day the band moved on. Riding in chartered Austrian buses, they crossed the beautiful French Alps and entered Italy. They arrived in Torino, Italy, that night just in time to play a concert in the opera house before a full house. Before this receptive audience, they played many types of music such as classical, Italian, French and even some American Dixieland.

After this successful performance and a good night's rest, the group boarded their buses and traveled to Florence where they spent a few days admiring the city and shopping. Next, the band visited Venice, spending a day and a night in that romantic city. Switzerland was the next country on the agenda. On their way to Luzerne the train snaked its way through mountain passes revealing to the passengers breath-taking views of lofty, snow-topped peaks. They arrived in a village outside the city of Luzerne, where they were to spend the next two days. This time was spent in Luzerne shopping, mainly for Swiss watches.

The Cave Spring Band struts down the street in Nice, France at the International Lions Convention to the tune of their theme song, "Swinging on Parade."

Just across the border into Germany, the band played a concert at an international orphanage which was well accepted by the children.

After a long trip through West Germany and Communist East Germany, the band played a concert in West Berlin at the Shillerschule. Following the concert they took a tour of the city. Included in this tour was a visit to the Berlin wall, which made a profound impression upon everyone.

The next night was spent on a sleeper train through Germany. They arrived in Amsterdam that morning and rested most of the day. That night the group took a canal tour through the city and later went to a night club for a farewell party. The next morning they got up and set off for Brussels, Belgium. At Brussels airport, they caught their plane and took off for home. Happy to be homeward bound, but sad that their trip was almost over.

Homecoming weekend this year was indeed exciting. The cheerleaders led the students in cheers at the pep rally and again that night at the bonfire. The game, held the following night, found Cave Spring pitted against Bassett. The Knights played a valiant game and led us to victory with a score of 19-7. Halftime festivities revealed the King and Queen of homecoming and their court. The queen was selected by the student body, and the king by the football team. Following the game, there was a hop in the gym with music by the "Untouchables."

If a Man Answers, a three act comedy, was presented by the Senior Class. It is the story of Chental Stacey, a girl brought up with two heritages—Her father, a refined and proper Bostonian businessman, and her French mother, once a dancer in the Follies Berger. The scene of the play shifts from Boston to New York City where Chental sets out to find herself a husband. Here she falls in love with a photographer, Gene, and goes about trying to catch him and to keep him—with a few tricks borrowed from her mother who is wise in the ways of men.

These patrons represent the King of the chessboard, for without them, our battle would not have begun. Due to their interest, our book has been made a success. We extend our greatest appreciation and sincere thanks to these merchants of Roanoke.

The voice with a smile

Today, as always, the C&P voice with a smile is as close as "Operator" on your dial. Intelligently, cheerfully, the "Operator" handles phone calls to faraway places and intricate day-to-day problems of telephone users. Her job is interesting, important, demanding and rewarding. She's an indispensable member of our C&P communications service team.

MEN OF PROGRESS

"The men most sought after today are those who have the qualities of self-reliance, courage, resourcefulness and independence of judgment that all through history have distinguished superior men from their inferiors. Business needs the contributions of men who can escape the bonds of conformity to recognize emerging new problems and offer fresh solutions. What is progress but successful adaptation to new problems and opportunities?"

THE MOON... and beyond!

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . . new technologies . . . new medicines . . . even the moon and whatever lies beyond.

How far today's students go in this space age depends partly on their imagination but primarily on their training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates — more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives everyone an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not our target is reached depends on how well trained we are to launch ourselves.

And now the game has ended, the struggle is over and the onslaught fades into our memories. As the chess pieces are collected and put away, so the pages of this book are closed until another chapter is revealed.

The onslaught revealed to us many moves . . . some short, some long, some simple, some complicated. Every move gave us memories of the past and a new perspective for the future.
